

Energy Saver

Install an efficient air conditioner and save

For a limited time, the NSW Government is offering households a discount on installing an energy efficient air conditioner.

By installing a model with a high star rating, you can reduce energy use, save on bills and help the environment.

01

Connect with an approved installer

Find an approved installer by typing your postcode at www.energysaver.nsw.gov.au. Arrange for one to visit your home.

02

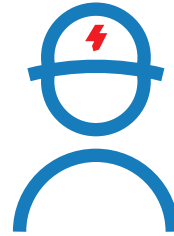

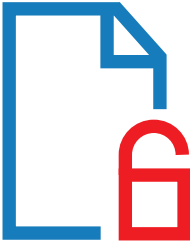

Learn your options

The installer will assess your cooling and heating needs. They will advise on what size air conditioner is suitable.

03

Get the quote

If the AC best suited to your home is on the approved list, your installer will give you a quote, which will include the discount subsidised by the NSW government.

04

Get the installation

An approved installer will install your new energy efficient air conditioner.

05

Follow Up

You will be contacted to answer questions about the offer.

Any questions?

Ask your installer directly. If your installer can't help, contact hello@energysaver.nsw.gov.au.

How will this help my household?

Heating and cooling use a lot of energy. Buying an air conditioner with a high star rating will save you money and keep your home comfortable. It also helps the environment.

If you live in Western Sydney and install a 4★ 5kW air conditioner instead of 2★ one, you could save $675 over the long-term.

What's the discount?

The installation discount will depend on the size of the air conditioner:

AC Size	Energy rating	Examples of ACs	Discount
2.5 kW	5.5 ★ and above	Small bedroom or study	$200
3.5 kW	5.5 ★ and above	Medium to large bedroom, small lounge	$200
5 kW	4 ★ and above	Lounge – living room, small office	$500
10 kW	3.5 ★ and above	Large open plan areas, small shops	$1000

Eligibility

You need to:

- be a NSW resident
- buy an air conditioner from our eligible list
- use an approved installer
- own your home or have approval from your landlord for the installation
- consent to your data being collected.

Air conditioner buying tips:

- Don't use an installer that gives a quote over the phone. The key to getting the best air conditioner is having an on-site assessment.
- Air conditioners need to be the right size. Discuss with the installer which one will suit the layout of your home.
- Shop around and get quotes from several installers.
- Make sure the final quote displays the right information, including:
 1. the installer business name
 2. their ABN
 3. your name and address
 4. details about the air conditioner
 5. total cost including installation and discount.

Once you have accepted the quote, the approved installer will install your new system.

Always ask to see an installer's credentials. It is illegal to install an air conditioner without a licence.

Follow up survey

To access the discount you'll need to sign a consent form to share your data.

Your information will be collected to carry out a satisfaction survey. It will be done via text message, phone call or a home visit. Your feedback on the installation process is important to us.

Your data will be treated as confidential. You can read more about the data policy at: www.energysaver.nsw.gov.au
